Uh-Oh, Here Comes Christmas

Based on essays by Robert Fulghum, the author of All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten

Adapted by Ernest Zulia and David Caldwell

Original music and lyrics by David Caldwell

A collection of vignettes, “crafted into an engaging evening of storytelling and song. This charming show takes a funny, heartwarming and often poignant look at the struggle to find the spirit of the holidays amid the avalanche of commercialism, stress and chaos that crashes down every December.”

Spring 2018

An Evening of One-Acts

Palo Verde College Theatre Arts will present an evening of one-acts written by noted Latinx playwrights.

One of the selected plays is Los Vendidos (“The Sellouts”) an early work written by the father of Chicano theatre, Luis Valdez. Considered one of the most important and influential American playwrights living today, Mr. Valdez is the author and director of the play and film, Zoot Suit, as well as the movie La Bamba, nominated for a Golden Globe for Best Motion Picture, Drama. Mr. Valdez also has won three Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle Awards, an Emmy, and numerous other awards, accolades, and honorary doctorate degrees, including one from the prestigious California Institute of the Arts (Cal Arts). Mr. Valdez is also a winner of the National Medal of Arts, awarded by President Barack Obama in 2015.

Community members of all ages and types are encouraged to participate. Good Spanish pronunciation is a plus, but the ability to speak Spanish fluently is not required. Parts are available for non-Hispanic actors. We particularly need performers over the age of 40! Backstage workers, volunteers, and running crew are also needed. Eligible high school students in grades 11 and 12 are welcome to participate as performers and crew.
