

Role of Students in Decision Making and Governance

Reference:

Palo Verde College encourages the participation of all its constituents in decision-making processes and governance of the college. The college values and seeks the counsel of its students. This shall be accomplished through a system of committees and information consultation. Students shall be appointed, whenever possible, to all permanent college committees (except those involving access to personal and/or professional files) with active voice and vote. Students are encouraged to participate fully in the growth and development of the college.
